Dedication

The 1980 Yearbook Staff of "The Highlighter" would like to dedicate this yearbook to all the teachers of Maxson School who, through their daily hard work and boundless effort, contribute so much to the young people of Plainfield and to society in general.

We would also like to acknowledge that all the candid, activity, and club pictures were taken for the first time by our own photography club, under the direction of Mr. Jackson. This is also the first time that seventh graders are included in the yearbook with individual pictures.

May this book give you much pleasure and keep alive many of your school day memories from Maxson School.

Sincerely,

Mr. R. Weigle

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Ernest Hobbie
Principal of Maxson Middle School

TO THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1980:

As you enter a new decade, the eighties, you must wonder what will be your role in the world around you. We are faced with an energy crisis, a possible economic depression or recession, the Iran crisis, rising unemployment, the military draft, the rising cost of living, and on and on. What do these issues have to do with Maxson eighth graders?

One day, in the not too distant future, you will take your place in society. Competition for jobs will be keen. If you do not have a sound educational background, you will not be considered for a good job.

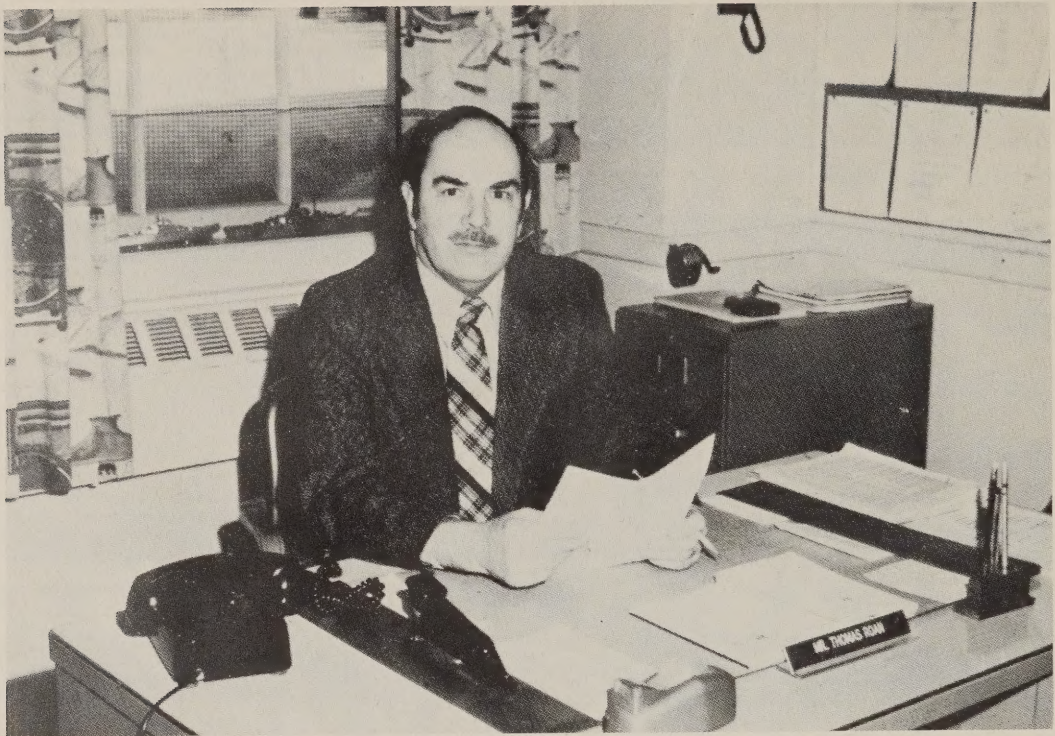

Make up your mind, NOW, that another day will not pass without applying your energies to a fuller education. Work hard at home, in school and in the community to become a productive person. Strive for that success formula and do all you can to attain the highest achievements.

We wish you success, happiness and good health in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Ernest P. Hobbie
